

Fantasy Theatre Factory

Little Monster Tales

This show is the TRICK to make reading a TREAT! Fantasy Theatre Factory presents delightfully squeamish stories about monsters, children and other squiggly creatures. Children love “scary” stories in October, so we use these themed stories to bring children’s literature to life! FTF combines reading with theater and comedy to create a show that will keep students and teachers on the edge of their seats. These spine-tingling stories are sure to send everyone running to the library for more books by the same authors!

Selections include:

The Monster and the Tailor by Pail Galdone

The Ghost-Eyed Tree by Bill Martin

Scary Poems for Rotten Kids by Sean O’Huigin

Ghost Writing by Jim Razzi

Appearing at:

"Little Monster Tales was thoroughly enjoyed by all of my 3rd grade class. They absolutely loved it. They laughed! They screamed! They held their breath! And they cheered over and over. This is a creative way to present literature and story telling to the children." - Mrs. Mazala, Teacher at WJ Bryan Elementary, N. Miami